ANGELA GEORGE KOMBA

Angela was born in January 09, 2008 in Songea; she lives at Mjimwema with her mother Suzan Tindwa.

Her father passed away shortly after Angela was born leaving her with her mother who was very sick after her birth with no means to take care of Angela. Her mother remained in bad health all the years after her birth getting help wherever she could.

Because of the difficultness in taking care of Angela, when she became 3 years old her mother decided she could not care for her anymore. In August 2011 Angela was accepted into SWACCO, the temporary orphanage solely supported by the Mwangaza Jitegemeo Foundation, located in Songea, Tanzania.

The Foundation provides her with food, clothes, medical and clinical services and all of her schooling needs including, tuition, school uniform, books and school supplies. Currently Angela just started pre-primary classes at Mjimwema Primary School. Angela is doing well in school and enjoys being with the teachers and other students. After school she likes playing with the other young kids, looking at books and assisting with watering the garden. Angela is very sweet and loves to be around the other girls and watching what they do.
